

'Something Big In The Wind' Scented As Pentagon Voices Optimism Over Korea Conflict

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Flanders (R-Vt) said today "there seems to be something big in the wind" in Korea that will support secretary of defense Marshall's assertion the Allies are moving toward success there.

And Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) declared he has "the definite feeling" the top command has a plan "which makes the outcome look optimistic."

No End In Sight

Both Flanders and Kefauver are members of the joint Senate armed services and foreign relations committee, which questioned Marshall for parts of six days last week and called him back to the witness stand for another session today.

The committee is investigating the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur by President Truman, and Far Eastern policy generally.

Some members of the group began to wonder, meanwhile, how to wind up the inquiry, which seems destined to last for weeks more.

At the Senate inquiry, Marshall's views regarding the outcome in Korea were developed under questioning by Senator Long (D-La).

Destroying Aggressors

"So far," said Long, "with regard to the Berlin blockade and the policy we followed in Greece, we have had the previous situation where there appeared to be stalemates, x x x and what they called the stalemate proved to be the dawn before the daybreak, didn't it?"

Marshall: Yes sir.

Long: And that is what you are hoping this situation in Korea will be?

Marshall: Very much so.

Missing ABC Newsman Found In Oslo Fjord

OSLO, Norway—(AP)—The body of Lylford Moore, an American Broadcasting Company correspondent missing for five months, was found in Oslo Fjord yesterday and police sought to determine the cause of his death.

The body was identified by fingerprints.

The 40-year-old Moore, a native of Detroit, Mich., was last seen alive last Dec. 10. Four days later, the American embassy announced he had vanished and asked Oslo police to conduct a search.

Moore, chief of the ABC bureau in Berlin, came to Norway early in December with a party of U. S. air force men to obtain Christmas trees for American airmen in North Africa. After he disappeared, a reward of $2,800 was offered for information leading to his discovery and Daniel O'Connor, a Washington attorney, was sent here by Moore's family to aid in the investigation.

Moore had been in Berlin since 1944 with his wife and two children. Earlier, he had worked on the Detroit Free Press, did radio news work in Spokane, Wash., and during the war was with the Office of War Information (OWI). He later joined the British news agency Reuters, which he left to go with ABC.

Aged Vice President Of Korea Resigns Job

PUSAN, Korea — (AP) — The resignation of Lee Seung Yung, 82-year-old vice president of the Republic of Korea, was accepted today.

The national assembly vote accepting the resignation was 77 to 10 with 41 members abstaining.

Only last week the assembly, with only one member dissenting, had voted against accepting Lee's resignation.

Lee complained, in submitting his resignation, that he had no real authority. He also voiced criticism of President Syngman Rhee's cabinet selections.

In the repercussions following the resignation there was some talk among Rhee's opposition of bringing impeachment proceedings, but political observers were inclined to doubt the success of any such move.

Embargo Predicted On War Goods For Communist China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United Nations sanctions committee today voted a worldwide ban on shipments of war goods to Communist China. The vote was 11 to nothing, with Egypt abstaining.

The sanctions group is a 14-nation body set up to consider punishment of Red China for her intervention in Korea. The committee's vote is only the first step toward imposition of the world-

Tiny Plane Hops Nation Non-Stop

NEW YORK—(AP)—Max Conrad, flying father of nine children, completed a transcontinental non-stop flight from Los Angeles to LaGuardia Field at 1:39:31 p. m. (EST) today when he passed over the LaGuardia Field control tower in his Piper Cub plane.

Conrad made the trip in 23 hours, four minutes and 31 seconds, setting a new coast-to-coast non-official speed record for light planes. The official light plane record is 30 hours and 47 minutes set in 1938 by John M. Jones. Conrad's wing and cabin tanks were loaded with gasoline and the plane required 3,500 feet of runway to take off.

Conrad is a pilot for executives of a Minneapolis industrial firm.

He has had more than 25,000 hours in the air.

Last year Conrad, a former Notre Dame University track athlete, flew across the Atlantic to Rome in the same plane he's using on the present flight.

AFL And CIO Must File Non-Communist Affidavits, Says Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme court today decided the Taft-Hartley act requires officers of "parent" labor federations such as the CIO and AFL to file non-Communist affidavits.

The court disagreed with a ruling by the national labor relations board that the oath requirement applies only to union groups which take part in collective bargaining and are empowered to call strikes.

The high tribunal at the same time rejected an NLRB contention that an employer has no right to a court finding as to whether union officials have properly complied with the affidavit requirement. The board insisted its own decision on compliance is final.

Gov. Williams Will Reappoint Dr. Heustis State Health Chief

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams said today he will reappoint Dr. Albert E. Heustis as state health commissioner when his term expires June 30.

Dr. Heustis was first appointed by former governor Kim Sigler in August, 1948. The appointment is for a four-year term.

Long: A prelude to victory for what we are trying to accomplish? Marshall: Yes sir.

Long: And so, although in one sense it would appear to be a stalemate, your judgment is that actually we are winning, at least we are day by day reaching what we could regard as a successful outcome of this venture to resist aggression?

Marshall: We are moving toward that.

Long: Moving toward— Marshall: A successful outcome. Then, alluding to the aggressors in Korea, Marshall said: "We are destroying them, in one sense, day by day."

BACKS TRUMAN PLAN

Lansing Solons Get Out Whips For 200 Bills

LANSING—(P)—Legislative leaders got out their big whips today to drive some 200 bills through the legislature in its final full week of sessions.

Next week the lawmakers will devote their last-minute attentions to the budget, taxes and bills left hanging in dispute when this week's long pull ended.

Plenty Night Work

The bosses of the house and senate signalled many night meetings and long hours ahead this week as the legislature rounded the three-quarter post on the way to final adjournment.

The senate planned to return from a weekend recess at 3 p. m. to get its nose to the grindstone early. The house will arrive in the evening and the pot will boil madly.

There was lots to be done. Very few major measures—except those raising highway taxes—had cleared both chambers.

The senate spotlight went at once on a house bill to restore the one-man grand jury system and a house-approved budget of more than $307,500,000—$42,000,000 more than the current estimate of revenues for next year.

Right in the focus, too, was the house-approved two per cent corporation profits tax to raise $35,000,000.

Budget Gets Trimmed

Few could guess the fate of the grand jury measure in the senate although there were some bets that it had been weakened so much that even senate foes would be able to swallow it.

The senate appropriations committee is expected to trim the house budget bill at least $8,000,000, knocking off a $7,000,000 grant for teachers' retirement out of the general fund and more than $1,000,000 to start a medical building at Wayne University.

Senate money-raisers hinted they might spring a surprise of their own—a new estimate of revenues which would make the proposed $42,000,000 shrink materially.

There were hints the new one-

Romance Brings Triple Slaying

CHICAGO—(AP)—A father's objection to his daughter's marriage to a man of a different faith resulted in a triple slaying last night, police said.

Police Lt. Matt Homer said the father apparently shot and killed his daughter and her husband, then turned the gun upon himself.

Dead were Louis Hamilton, 63, his wife, Elizabeth, 32, and the woman's father, Stanley Novak, 65.

Homer said the dead woman's daughter by a previous marriage, Mary Strasser, 16, said that Novak, a Roman Catholic, objected to the marriage because Hamilton was Jewish.

Air Force Loses 212 Planes In Korea; 149 Lost By Reds

WASHINGTON — (P) — The U. S. Air Force has lost 212 planes in Korea as compared to 149 lost by the Communists.

In making these figures public, the Air Force offered no explanation. However, American aircraft have been operating around-the-clock against all kinds of targets, while the Reds have confined their activities generally to hit-and-run strikes from the safety of Manchurian bases.

The plane loss figures were issued Saturday at a news conference by Lt. Gen. Otto P. Weyland who recently arrived from the Far East to become deputy commander of the tactical air force with headquarters at Langley Field, Va.

Defen: Department Asks Billions For New Military Installations

WASHINGTON — (P) — The defense department is planning to ask Congress for as much as $6,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000 for new military installations and expansion of present ones, it was reported yesterday.

The prospective program, as outlined by a House armed services committee source who asked not to be named, said the department probably will submit a request before the end of the month.

He said it will seek funds for work in nearly every state and at overseas bases.

HOME IS THE HERO — The only living Army winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor in Korea, M-Sgt. Ernest Kouma, is home at Dwight, Neb., with his mother, Mrs. Josephine Kouma. Bride shines in the mother's face as she greets her son in Omaha.

Democrat Tags Four Candidates For Presidency

WASHINGTON — (P)—Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) attached some labels yesterday to a few possible presidential candidates.

Here are the labels. See if you can match them with the men Douglas had in mind:

1. "Able and virile—a little too old" for the job of president.
2. "Great recuperative powers—don't count him out."
3. The job would be "too big" for this one, even though "certain ill-advised persons" have proposed him as a candidate.
4. "We Democrats have hopes" that this one is a Democrat. If he is, said Douglas, then he is a possible Democratic candidate.

Answers:

1. Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Douglas said he believed the 71-year-old MacArthur probably would prefer a more quiet life than he'd get as president.
2. President Truman, of course. Douglas recalled the 1948 election, when Mr. Truman was all but counted out before the voting started.
3. Senator Douglas.
4. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, often mentioned as a possible candidate for both parties.

Douglas aired his opinions over NBC's television show "Meet The Press."

Traffic Mishaps Take Six Lives

(By The Associated Press)

Three pedestrians killed in city traffic brought Michigan's weekend accidental death toll to at least eight.

The pedestrians all were men past middle years. In all, there were six traffic deaths. A 13-year-old boy was fatally wounded while he and a young friend played with a revolver, and a baby of 18 months died after swallowing reducing tablets.

John Luyendyk, 89, of Grand Rapids, and Detroiters George J. Zajack, 57, and Manfred Mueller, 68, were struck down and killed by cars.

Luyendyk, hit while crossing a street near his home Saturday night, died Sunday in St. Mary's hospital of head injuries.

Four-year-old Bernard Ries of Carrollton, a Saginaw suburb, died Saturday when he fell out of a car driven by his aunt, Miss Sarah Spence, and the car's wheels passed over him.

Three-Day Chicago Milk Strike Ended

CHICAGO—(P)—Chicago's three-day milk strike ended today after night long bargaining sessions headed by mayor Martin H. Kennelly.

Dairy operators and union leaders said deliveries would be resumed immediately.

The drivers agreed to a two-year contract which would give them a $2 a week raise, retroactive to May 1, another $3 Oct. 1, and a final $3 May 1, 1952. Drivers also would get six days pay for five days work, and deliveries would be on a seven day basis. The agreement will be voted upon today by union members, and a union spokesman forecast that it would be ratified.

War Front Quiet; UN Troops Ready To Stop Red Push

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO — (P)—United Nations troops dug in and waited today, confident they could stop the next Red offensive when it comes.

The whole Korean front was quiet. It usually is when the Communists are getting set to strike.

An 8th army spokesman said the Reds could strike again any time they wanted. The consensus was that they would in about ten days.

Eve Kept On Air Force

There were hints the new one-

slaught would be backed by greater fire power—and possibly planes.

A new air field was discovered at Pyong, 25 miles northeast of Pyongyang, the Red Korean capital. B-29 superforts tore it up with 130 tons of bombs.

Lt. Gen. Earle E. Patridge, 5th Air Force commander, said the Reds "could build up (an air force) fairly rapidly—we are keeping a watchful eye on them."

A Red patrol surrounded and overrun on the western front was equipped with an unusual number of automatic weapons, (P) Correspondent John Randolph reported.

The first Chinese spring offensive was by infantry alone. It cost the Reds 75,000 casualties by U. S. 8th army estimates. That drive began April 22 and died out in ten days.

Lull Is Ominous

Probing U. N. troops killed or wounded more than 2,600 Reds over the weekend. Pilots hunting through the gray skies Monday morning for Red concentrations reported they blasted 250 more.

Low clouds held U. S. 5th Air Force sorties down to 500 Sunday and 200 Monday morning. Prime targets were Red efforts to supply their front line troops for the expected assault.

On the ground patrols played a grim game of hide and seek. (P) Correspondent Nate Polowetzky at 5th army headquarters said it was reminiscent of previous times just before the Reds struck.

U. N. patrols reaching out in front of their lines on the western and central fronts found few Reds, or none at all. Polowetzky said "the lack of ground contact sounded an ominous note." It indicated the Communists had pulled back to strike.

New Strategy Tried For Ousting Acheson

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (P) — Rep Phillips (R-Calif.) today came up with a new strategy for House Republicans seeking to force Dean Acheson out of office as secretary of state.

Such a campaign has been under discussion in House cloakrooms for several weeks, and administration leaders have conceded privately they are not at all sure they can stop it.

Phillips, a member of the appropriation committee has drafted an amendment which would strike Acheson from the state department payroll without mentioning him by name. Attempts to eliminate individuals by name have been blocked in the past by court rulings.

Phillips' amendment would prohibit use of any state department funds to pay anyone in the department who in the previous five years "was connected directly or indirectly with a business or professional office, any part of whose income was derived from business relations with or professional services for any government other than the government of the United States."

"That would get Acheson," Phillips told newsmen, "because his law firm represented some foreign governments within the past five years and while he still was associated with it."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), one of Acheson's most persistent critics, said in a speech at Marshfield, Wis., Saturday that Acheson would be "fired" within three weeks.

McCarthy said such a decision was made after William M. Boyle, Jr., chairman of the Democratic national committee, "wrote the state department that Democratic congressmen were being flooded with letters demanding something be done about the state department."

Car Troubles Come Aplenty For Columnist

By ROBERT C. RUARK

MIAMI, Fla.—I had forgotten the joys of motoring before this trip down here, and also the axiom that a big city boy had best stay in the city, in order to protect himself against the wiles of the ruralite, or boobytrap.

I made it from New York to Miami in just under a week, and the final cost would have allowed the charter of a private airplane. This is not including the sale of the car. It was such a pretty car, too, before the hood caved in and the front end dropped off and it fell into the clutches of a modern Ali Baba and his 40 sister compatriots.

Car Trouble

Some people do not get along well with dogs, cats or horses. With me it's automobiles. They have as yet constructed no automobile which will not, as deponent takes the wheel, sigh, sputter, clank, clang, cough, and collapse. I had not touched this shiny beauty since last October. In a space of a few hundred miles, it developed everything from punctures to bubonic plague of the carburetor.

We were savoring the marvels of the open road such as menacing trucks, gas fumes, detours and pimply young men in hot-rod jalopies, and even showing a profit up to and including Georgetown, S. C., where we stopped to steal a bottle of snake-bite lotion from a venerable friend who runs a deluxe motel. Only slight casualties occurred in St. Augustine, where a man named Maxwell, whose friends wrestle alligators for fun, operates another tavern for tired motorists. With no provocation Mr. Maxwell's garage turned on my car with a snarl and deliberately hit it on the fender.

The fun began for fair in a place called Stuart, Fla. Where Bessie the Buick gave a wistful wheeze and ceased functioning entirely. A young man with eight kids and a deceptively disarming appearance said he reckoned it wasn't nothing very serious and he would speed us on our way in a jiffy. The Florida definition of a jiffy turns out to be infinity. We repaired to a local hostel called the Lighthouse, which is run by the only British ex-Sumatran rubber planter in the Florida sailing area—that I ever met, anyhow.

Three hundred acres were burned over in the Marquette national forest north of Eckerman. About eight men were recruited from the camps of the Cadillac-Soo and Sheldon Lumber companies to fight the blaze in a hardwood slash. Four bulldozers and other fire fighting equipment were utilized.

Louis Harrison, Escanaba, supervisor of the Forest Service, said the fire was put under control about 9 last night, but about forty men were using pumps and other equipment to extinguish it today.

Five more acres were burned over in the Hiawatha forest along M-98, southwest of Munising.

The conservation department fought a 13-acre blaze along the Days river and a small fire in the Danforth area Sunday. Three small fires also were reported in Marquette county.

Extreme danger conditions continue today. Fishermen and others visiting forest areas are urged by officials to be cautious while smoking and building campfires.

Trudeau telephoned the Taxi company office and the Escanaba fire department was called to the scene.

Production Records Going Up In Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) today reported new production records in western Europe and called for even greater output to meet defense goals.

Industrial output in the Marshall Plan countries has reached an all-time peak, 38 per cent higher than in 1938, ECA said in a report to Congress.

The report, covering the last three months of 1950, said agricultural production also established a new record, 10 per cent higher than pre-war levels.

But, the agency cautioned: "Western Europe's production must be further expanded if defense programs are to be accomplished without materially reducing living standards."

ECA conceded that greater industrial and agricultural production will be difficult in coming months because of rising prices and "critical shortages of basic raw materials."

But, it said, it is imperative for output to increase further if the western European nations are to "make a contribution to defense production of the magnitude that is needed."

Since the Marshall plan was started in April of 1948, a total of $12,300,000,000 has been allocated to 16 European nations and the Territory of Trieste. In detailing Europe's economic comeback in the last quarter of 1950, ECA listed these achievements:

Gold and dollar holdings—up $500,000,000 boosting the total gain since currency devaluations in September 1949 to $2,400,000,000.

Intra-European trade—34 per cent higher than the same quarter of 1949—"an extraordinary rise."

Steel Output Jumps

Foreign trade—now averaging 157 per cent of the 1938 level whereas imports from the United States and Canada have dropped from an average of $500,000,000 monthly to $300,000,000.

Steel production—climbed to 13,600,000 metric tons in the quarter—"the highest volume on record." This was 18 per cent higher than a comparable 1949 period.

Textile production—a new post-war high, 35 per cent above 1949.

Motor vehicle output—a new postwar peak, average nearly 150,000 vehicles monthly. This ranks 80 per cent higher than the prewar figure.

Shipbuilding—tonnage during the 1950 year totaled more than 2,400,000, a third more than 1938.

However, ECA warned the "rate of improvement is slowing down," and living standards are still "dangerously low" for workers in France, Italy, Western Germany, Austria and Greece.

School Building Needs Here Are Acute, Expert Shows Citizens

THE scope of Escanaba's school building requirements was brought before local citizens sharply Friday night by Russell Wilson, of Dearborn, expert in school planning and school building needs. In frang language Wilson declared that Escanaba citizens are confronted with the problem of building an entire new set of schools, that the present grade school buildings are outmoded, unsafe and woefully below today's standards.

At the cost of school buildings today, the problem is a tremendous one. The report of Mr. Wilson, however, does not mean that all the buildings must be abandoned promptly and replaced immediately with new structures. That is an impossibility and it must be so recognized. The cost of such a project would run into millions of dollars which could not possibly be secured in a short period of time.

It does mean, though, that the problem of seeking means of financing to start a school rebuilding project is immediate. We have reached a point in our school building needs which requires action.

The situation would be critical enough if it concerned only the age of the present buildings, averaging 50 years old. It is further intensified, however, by the analysis of enrollment trends which indicate an extremely sharp increase in the number of school children within the next 10 to 15 years. The flood of war babies is just beginning to reach school age and that is a problem in educational needs that will be of great concern to the people of the community in the years ahead.

Soviet Ideas On Jap Treaty Impossible

FORTUNATELY there is little likelihood that anything will come of the Soviet Union's latest proposals for a Japanese peace parley. They are honeycombed with traps.

To begin with, the Russians complain that current American efforts to achieve a treaty without them are "illegal." Since the Kremlin broke up the peace conferences which included Soviet representatives, this protest has an empty sound.

The Russians want a meeting now to include the foreign ministers of the U. S., Britain, Russia and Red China. But this leaves out such countries as the Philippines, New Zealand and Australia, which contributed a great deal more to the defeat of Japan than did the Soviet Russia.

Let it be forgotten, the Russians fought the Japanese for exactly one week—the final week of the war when the Japs were already licked and looking for a way to surrender. For Moscow to attempt to dictate who shall sit at the peace table is sheer gall.

The Russian note to the American government says it is "perfectly obvious" that a treaty drawn without Red China's participation is impossible. Actually, it's the other way around. Enough has been seen of Communist negotiations to make it abundantly clear that there would never be a satisfactory treaty so long as the Reds were allowed to have a say in its drafting.

Further proof of that may be found in the terms the Russians suggest for the Jap treaty. High on the list is a ban on any foreign state maintaining troops or military bases in Japan. In preliminary negotiations with John Foster Dulles, the Japanese already have indicated a desire to have the United States maintain bases in their home islands as a safeguard against possible Communist attack.

The Russians also propose that Japan "not enter any coalition against one of the states taking part with its armed forces in the war against militaristic Japan."

This means the Japs would be barred from siding with the free nations in any broad conflict with either China or Russia or both.

In fact, the Soviet note declares that the U. S. has already illegally compelled Japan, as an occupied nation, to support "armed intervention in Korea."

This country would be the first to admit, of course, that it had no thought when it signed the Japanese surrender document of using Japan as a base for military operations in Korea or anywhere else. But just exactly who is to blame for the fact that this became necessary?

If we're going to discuss what is illegal, let's start with the Russian-inspired Communist invasion of South Korea. Eliminate that and the U. S. would undoubtedly still be managing a relatively uneventful occupation of Japan.

The newest Soviet proposals probably are not meant to be taken seriously by us. But perhaps Moscow is entertaining the idea that Britain might be tempted. All recent evidence suggests, however, that this won't happen. As a patent attempt to cause delay and sow new discord among the free nations, the Russian scheme is destined to fall flat.

Busy Man

By Gordon Martin

If a man is keeping busy, he is sure a lucky guy, for he hasn't time for troubles and they quickly pass him by. He's so active doing all his chores, he hasn't time to think, of the tragedies which possibly could cause his ship to sink. He's a man who, by experience, has learned a lesson true—that a fellow really busy is a happy fellow too.

It's the chap with time to sit and brood who weeps the briny tears, for he hasn't anything to do except to court his fears. He will shy away from added tasks and always pass the buck, so's to make himself unhappy and to gripe about his luck. But he's quite surprised to learn nobody wants to buy his stock, as he worries of misfortune and the slowness of the clock.

Seems like people would discover that, instead of being bored, they could do a little more and find their faith in life restored. And they'd realize, besides the fact they earn some extra pay, that the guy who works the harder has the better time at play. If we've proved one thing since time began, we've surely proved it true—that a fellow really busy is a happy fellow too.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—There have been numerous headlines about the oil - tanker deals of Ex-Congressman Joe Casey, Admiral "Bull" Halsey and the late Ed Stettinius. Real fact, however, is that these deals are peanuts compared with the way a fabulous group of wealthy Greeks bought American ships on a shoestring and parlayed their fleet into one of the largest in the world.

Furthermore, they did it largely with the use of other people's money.

One of the Greeks who purchased an American ship, incidentally, is the present premier of Greece, Sophocles E. Venezelos, though he did so before he became premier.

These Greeks, though private citizens, used the credit of their government to buy up bargain-rate American Liberty ships, grew fat on the post-war boom, and are now operating hundreds of ships under a dozen different flags. Because they pay almost no taxes, they have rung up fantastic profits. And though still citizens of Greece, they live like monarchs in New York, London and, in a few cases, Argentina.

Their chief rendezvous in New York is at the Hotel St. Moritz, where it is said that if you throw a rock out the window you are bound to hit a Greek shipowner.

Here is how they made this fairy-land fortune and won control of oil tankers and tramp steamers in many parts of the world.

GENEROUS UNCLE SAM

After the war a kindly Uncle Sam with too many ships on his hands wanted to help various governments rehabilitate their merchant marine. The French government bought 75 Liberty ships and the Italian government 50, though keeping the ships for their own use.

But the Greek government bought no ships. Instead, Greek merchants, not living in Greece, had enough pull with the Tsaladaris government to buy 98 Liberty ships from the U. S. A., using certificates from the Greek government and a Greek government loan guarantee. All the Greeks had to pay was 25 per cent down, or a paltry $21,780 per ship.

And, thanks to the fact that Marshall plan trade sent steamship rates soaring, it was possible for them to pay for the entire cost of the ship in two or three voyages.

Significantly, the Greek shipowners did not carry Marshall plan goods to Greece, free, as did French, British and Italian government steamers.

Furthermore, these same Greeks also bought ships privately from the U. S. government without the backing of Greece, and transferred them to Panamanian and Honduran registry. Thus, they paid no taxes in Panama and Honduras, because there are no income or corporation taxes in those countries. Also, they paid no tax in Greece for the same reason. And, as Greek citizens with an income in Panama, they weren't required to pay taxes in the United States.

UNCLE SAM WAKES UP

By 1948, the United States woke up to the way its surplus ships were being used by foreigners, and a law was passed cutting out sales to foreign nationals. However, the Greeks got around this by forming dummy companies whose majority stock was owned by American citizens. So they continued buying American surplus ships just the same.

The available records show that these Greek shipping magnates now own 246 ships flying the flags of Panama, Great Britain, Canada, Honduras, etc. They also own many of the 265 ships that fly the Greek flag, including the original 98 Liberty ships, which cannot be transferred but must be operated under Greek registry, according to the terms of the mortgage agreement.

Actually, the true record of Greek ownership has been so obscured by financial manipulating and international juggling that the real figures may never be uncovered. For example, the Greeks also own secret control of ships under other names, and the maritime commission is now trying to uncover Greek ownership in companies that, on paper at least, are controlled by American citizens.

The largest Greek shipowners are S. G. and N. G. Livanos, who bought 12 of the original 98 Liberty ships, plus at least 10 more vessels for transfer to Panamanian registry. They own the Atlantic Maritime corporation, a Panamanian company, organized in 1946, for the specific purpose of buying U. S. ships for Panamanian registry. They also operate an extensive fleet under the Greek flag, including the 12 Liberty ships.

In addition, they own S. Livanos and company of London, Trent Maritime company of London, Hercules Marine Insurance company of London, Livanos Brothers Maritime Company Ltd. of London, and probably others.

College Course Puts Tired People Through Paces Of Modern Dancing

Pictures and Text

By ARTHUR RICKERBY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For two solid hours, one night a week, businessmen, professors, teachers, students and housewives roll on the floor and leap through the air at Teachers College, Columbia University.

In nearby classrooms, there are serious lectures going on about education, economics and world affairs. But in the dimly lit gymnasium, a piano tinkles while 30 students take a course in how to relax and forget about business worries, high prices and the day's headlines.

"On the floor, legs in air, hands touching the floor—arch those feet," says the teacher. Thirty bodies move in a semblance of unison.

"Take a deep breath. Real, real deep. I'll bet you haven't done that all day. Get rid of those office lungs."

The teacher is Jean Erdman, an exponent of the modern dance who teaches the Columbia course as a sideline. Miss Erdman isn't trying to turn out dancers. She just wants to get her students to relax.

"I'm getting my week's exercise now," a secretary said as she took to the floor, "but I love it—it gives you that tuned up feeling."

"Someday the Army is going to discover modern dance for conditioning," thought 26-year-old Bob Waite of Franklin, Pa., a music student at Teachers College.

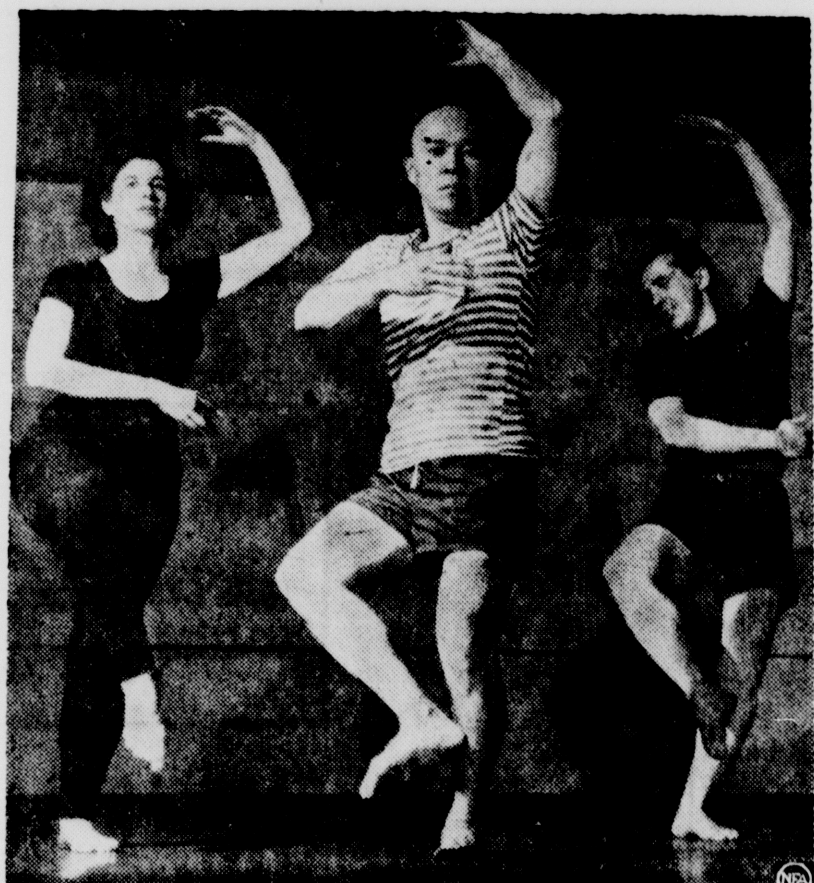

Earl Hiromoto, 37-year-old businessman originally from Honolulu, agreed in theory that the course is fun and relaxing. "But it's a little strenuous, especially where the legs are concerned," he added.

Carol Curtis, 26, a tall New York housewife clad in a one-piece black outfit, enrolled "for exercise and just to get away from housework for a while."

"At the beginning, I sure was stiff the next day. But not now. It's great fun. I wish I could do more."

WHIRLING TEACHER Jean Erdman shows her students how to get their feet off the ground. "People love to move and jump around," she says, to explain how dancing teaches relaxation.

Theodora Smith, 31, of Houston, Tex., a professional actress (Anna Lucasta), said "This program helps me professionally. It leads to better body condition—and to better speech."

The piano tinkled on. "Up down, down up," commanded Miss Erdman. "Now we will line up by twos. Take two steps forward, running short steps—then let yourself fly through the air—release yourself . . . one, two—leap."

The floor creaked with the effort.

Honolulu-born Jean Erdman takes her Columbia teaching chore seriously. A Sarah Lawrence College graduate, Martha Graham dancer and now head of her own troupe and school, the sloe-eyed brunette is an ardent booster of her art and its uses.

"People love to move and jump around," she explained while she watched her leaping students.

"This is rhythmic exercise. Instead of going to a gym for just tiresome, mechanical exercise, one comes to a class of this sort and finds a most satisfying experience."

"It is the sort of exercise that co-ordinates the pupils, helps them really become alive. So little of our physical bodies are used these days that the body goes to sleep. We have had them come here at night after a hard day at the office, headachy, feeling bad, telling me they have dragged themselves to class—and then winding up feeling most exhilarated at the finish."

The catalogue lists the course as a weekly lesson in "Modern Dance for Lay Folks," designed for the dual purpose of providing exercise and relaxation.

To a sideline observer, the class looks like something Columbia University football coach Lou Little rigged up for Spring training, with attractive girls and music thrown in as an added attraction.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

ALWAYS THE FIRST—About mid-April when the opening of the iron ore traffic season was the local big news we presented two columns on the history and volume of iron ore loadings at Escanaba.

At that time we made the rather vehement claim that Escanaba port was always the first to open each season and often the last to close; that ore loadings at the two Chicago & North Western docks here were above those at Marquette each season; and somebody should rise up and tell the world of Escanaba's leading place in the ore industry.

In the mail the other day were received a letter from George W. Eastland, editor of the C&NW Newsliner, as follows:

"I read with considerable interest your columns in the April 19th and 20th issues of the Daily Press. I thought you would be interested to know that we are going to take your suggestion and do a story on the Escanaba iron ore traffic this summer. Thanks for the nudge."

BIG AND LITTLE—Knowing the brothers Werner J. and Fred Vietzke of Rapid River as big men with an interest in many things, we were entertained the other day to hear they have a new curio to add to their collection.

This one was not anticipated, however, for one of their cows gave birth to a midcet calf weighing only 13 pounds. Normal weight for a newborn calf is from 60 to 120 pounds, Werner said.

CLATTER IN THE COURT—We have previously commented concerning the condition and inadequacies of the Delta county court house. Here is another incident illustrating the point.

Several times while court has been in session in the long Norton will contest hearing a resounding clatter has disturbed the quiet of the court room. The lawyers hesitate, the jurors look toward the spectator section, and Judge Glenn W. Jackson raises an inquiring eyebrow.

Cause of the commotion is a loose wooden arm rest on one of the seats, second from the front row on the west side of the room. Unwary spectators move a hand or an elbow and the piece of hardwood goes clattering to the floor.

Later they surreptitiously replace it on the metal frame of the seat—a trap for the next unsuspecting occupant.

UP TO THEIR KNEES—From Gulliver comes the story of a successful smelt fishing party, an extended vacation, and fulfilled hopes of a Detroit couple.

At 6 o'clock of a late April morning there was a knock on the door of the Harold Dixner home at Gulliver. The callers were Mr. and Mrs. J. Myers of Detroit, disappointed at a catch of seven smelt on Lower Michigan streams. They had come to Gulliver for some real fishing.

Dixner and his sons, Kenny and Philip, took them to a stream on Millikie Lake where a tub and basket were soon filled with wriggling smelt. The fishing was so good that Myers had some of them packaged and frozen at Manistique.

And from there he telephoned his boss in Detroit to tell him he wanted to extend his vacation another day. The boss consented—on condition that Myers produce some smelt when he returned to the job.

TRUTH IS OUT—At University of Michigan one of the students was pleasantly shocked to find that a pen and ink drawing he had made was selected to be hung with more pretentious efforts at the Inter-Arts Union Student art exhibit.

Robert B. McGhee, the self-made artist, was interviewed by a reporter of the Michigan Daily, U. of M. student publication.

McGhee claims that "you too, can be a self-made artist," and says that he did the sketch in 15 minutes. He admitted to no previous experience in art and said the inspiration for his creation "Eyes On Me" was trying to drink a pitcher of beer in the men's dorm.

The new artist blushed and added modestly, "I didn't realize the consequence of what I was doing."

"If anyone wants to buy it, 'I'm willing to sell at a reasonable price. I can make hundreds of them in no time at all.'"

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

READERS' CORNER

Q. Please explain and pronounce the word "kibitzer."

A. It means, "one who gives un-asked-for advice," as a meddler at a card game.

Kibitzer is a variant of the German word kiebitzen, from kiebitz, the German name for the pewit or lapwing, a little bird of Europe that has the annoying habit of uttering shrill, wailing cries to warn game when a hunter draws near. The American bluejay is also a self-appointed warning system, filling the air with its discordant cries upon the approach of man.

Borden: Please explain why, if my son's hair is not kept combed, it is unkempt, instead of "unkempt."

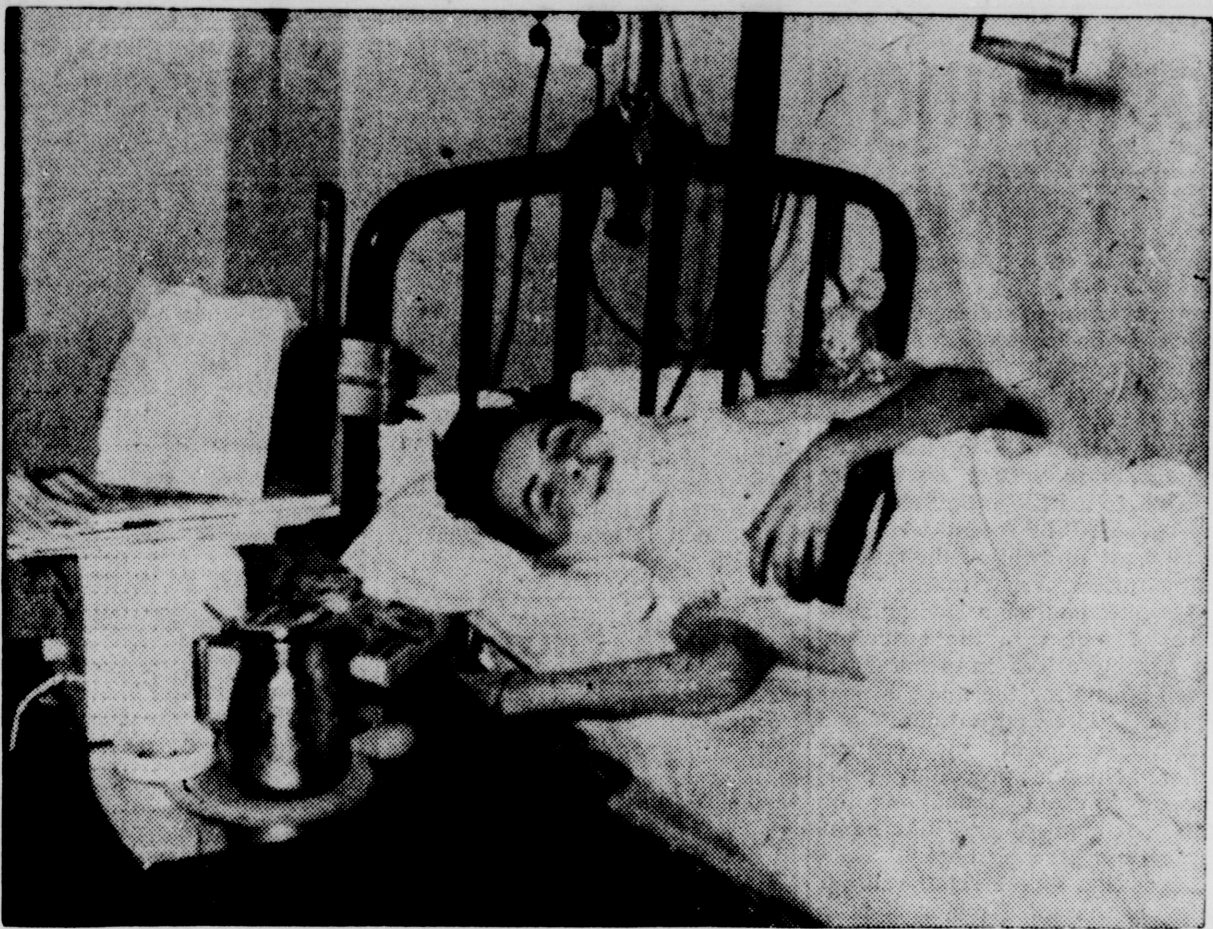

A. Unkempt means literally "uncombed." The "kempt" is a lost word in English; it is the past tense of the Anglo-Saxon verb cemban, "to comb." There are many such lost words which survive only in other words; for example, the "couth" of uncouth, the "rath" of rather, the "bash" of bashful, the "math" of aftermath, the "ruth" of ruthless, etc.

Q. I've read of gold being "earmarked" for such and such a purpose. How did we get so queer an expression?

A. It comes from the age-old custom of slitting, cropping, or notching the ears of domestic animals in such a way as to be a mark of ownership. In ancient days it was even customary to earmark slaves to prevent their running away or being stolen. To earmark gold, of course, is to set it aside for some specific purpose.

LOOKING AHEAD—Tom Donahue, 14, of Bark River Rt. 1, is pictured in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, encased in a cast from ears to hips. He is looking forward to the time—a year and one-half away—when he will be out of casts and braces with a straight back.

Medical Science Helps Tom Donahue Fight Back

Tom Donahue, 14, is encased in a cast from his ears to his hips—but he can still grin happily with the knowledge that medical science is helping him win a long, hard fight.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donahue of Bark River, Rt. 1, Tom is having his spine straightened so he will be able to grow up with a straight back like other boys.

He must spend the next six months in a cast that comes over his ears and down to his hips—and then another year or more at home in a body brace.

Spine Held Straight
Recently transferred to the convalescent unit of the Detroit Children's hospital, Tom who was a polio victim 10 years ago, entered University hospital in Ann Arbor on Jan. 27 where he underwent a series of treatments for straightening his spine. This included five weeks in a pressure cast and two spinal operations.

According to x-rays taken two weeks ago, specialists found that his spine was straight but must be held that way by the cast and braces until there is no danger of further curvature.

Unlike some teen-agers who find school lessons boring, Tom welcomes them. Three teachers come daily to his bedside, helping him keep up with his school work and breaking the monotony of the hours in bed. He also is taught occupational therapy.

Mother, Son Stricken
Tom and his mother both were stricken with polio in an epidemic of 10 years ago. Apparently fully recovered from the polio, Tom developed a weakness of the spine resulting in a curvature that, if not corrected, would have permanently crippled him.

The corrective treatment is being given Tom with the assistance of the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission. Mrs. Donahue was herself afflicted by the polio attack and for a time had to get about with the aid of braces and crutches. Recovery is continuing—without the braces and crutches now—and a few days ago Mrs. Donahue achieved a major triumph in driving to Iron Mountain in the new

Look To Future

A daughter, Sharon, now 11 years old, was only nine months old at the time of the polio epidemic that struck two of the four persons in the Donahue home. Sharon and Mr. Donahue escaped.

Unable to carry on many of the house hold tasks at that time, Mrs. Donahue took a rehabilitation course and learned photo retouching. She has earned several hundred dollars in a year in doing this work for commercial photographers.

Right now the Donahues are happier than they have been in years. For Tom is getting along well—and in six months he will be home. He will come home in a brace he must wear for another year, but after that he will be able to stand and walk erect.

Raymond Kurth Held As Reckless Driver

Raymond G. Kurth, 20, Escanaba Rt. 1, is held in jail today for arraignment on a reckless driving charge following an accident at 5:55 p. m. Sunday at the junction of Soo Hill and Danforth roads, sheriff's officers report.

He is expected to be arraigned this afternoon.

Now at liberty on bond awaiting sentence following a plea of guilty before Judge Glenn W. Jackson in circuit court in April, Kurth had appealed from a conviction in justice court.

Sheriff's officers arrested him at 9:15 o'clock last night on the latest reckless driving count.

OPS Considers Veneer Prices

Fancy Stock May Be Decontrolled

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (WNS) — Members of the Hardwood Veneer Manufacturers Industry Advisory committee have recommended to the Office of Price Stabilization that fancy veneers be decontrolled and that commercial grades of veneer be left for the present under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, OPS stated.

Juel Lee, president Birds Eye Veneer company of Escanaba, Mich., is a member of the industry committee and attended the meeting.

A majority of the members appeared to believe that old OPA Regulation 538 would provide a satisfactory basis from which to develop a new tailored regulation that would fix dollars-and-cents ceilings on common grades of commercial veneer.

Veneer is thinly sliced, peeled or cut wood used in making plywood furniture, boxes, containers and other items. Representatives of the industry said GCPR ceilings were satisfactory for the time being for all manufacturers except those using imported logs because the industry had been depressed and prices were below ceilings. Those using imported logs said up to the present their product had been made from logs imported at old prices but they would commence working on new higher priced inventories soon.

There was some discussion on what steps would be required to prevent upgrading of commercial veneer. Committeemen disagreed on whether the zone pricing as set forth in the old OPA regulation should be maintained, with a majority favoring elimination of zones. It was pointed out that southern mills were paying higher minimum wages and using more modern equipment eliminating basic reasons for zones.

Police Check Up On Bay Death Of Escanaba Woman

received before she died. Dr. Hult conducted an autopsy to determine the cause of death. He reported that she had drowned.

According to statements taken by the police, Mrs. Heath accompanied Logan Barnett, Sgt. George Williams, 308 S. 4th street, and Mrs. Edna Flath, 1710 Ludington St., on their return from Club 41, west of the city, at 2 a. m. Wednesday.

Upon arrival in Escanaba, Sgt. Williams said, Barnett and Mrs. Heath got out of Williams' car, where Barnett was rooming. Williams added that Barnett and Mrs. Heath got into Barnett's car, which was parked near the hotel.

Questioned by police, Barnett said he did not remember leaving Club 41 and that when he awakened at 5 a. m. he was sitting in his car parked at the curb in Ludington street near South 10th street. Although he has been questioned on five different occasions, Barnett's story remained unchanged.

Barnett offered to submit to a lie detector test and arrangements for the test are being made by local police with the Michigan State Police. It is hoped to bring the lie detector mechanism and an expert to Escanaba to conduct the test, but if this arrangement cannot be worked out, Barnett will be taken to Lansing for the examination.

No Evidence of Attack

Escanaba police reported this morning that their investigation of the case has disclosed that Mrs. Heath had only $30 in her billfold when she left Club 41. Relatives previously had indicated to police that they believed Mrs. Heath had a larger sum of money with her that evening.

The autopsy conducted by Dr. Hult showed no evidence of sexual attack, police reported. In addition to slight bruises on her nose, chin and cheek, there were two slight bruises in the abdominal area, all caused before her death, the coroner reported to police. There were no broken bones.

Barnett, who is married to the former Marian Erickson, daughter of Mrs. August Erickson, 913 S. 18th street, was arrested by local police Saturday night after the discovery of Mrs. Heath's billfold. He has been held in jail since that time.

Barnett and his wife came to Escanaba last December from Chicago where he had worked for the previous five years. He has been employed as a mechanic at the Escanaba Motor company. Barnett left his wife several days before the disappearance of Mrs. Heath and has been staying at the People's hotel.

Survived by 3 Children—Mrs. Heath was born in Perronville April 21, 1914 and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Guindon, moved to Escanaba when she was a year old. She was a graduate of St. Ann's school.

Her marriage took place August 12, 1935, in St. Ann's church. Surviving are three children, Charles Robert, Karen Ann and Paul David, her parents, three sisters, Mrs. John Scheer of Green Bay, Mrs. John Geroux, Escanaba, and Mrs. Robert Jensen, Escanaba, and two brothers, Victor, Jr., of Escanaba, and Wallace of Duluth.

The body was taken to the Boyce Funeral Home where friends may call beginning this afternoon. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 this evening. Services will be held at 10 Tuesday morning at St. Ann's chapel with Father Clifford Nadeau officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

German Cargo Ship Arrives At Detroit

DETROIT—(AP)—The first German ship to sail the Great Lakes in 14 years arrived here today from Hamburg.

It is the Geheime Sartori, a 358-foot, 1,500-ton motorship loaded with wines, machinery, clocks, surgical instruments, beer and steel plating materials. It left Hamburg, April 19.

The Geheime Sartori, built in Kiel for the Hamburg-Chicago line, will also call at Chicago and Milwaukee. It is the first of eight slated to be operated on a regular bi-weekly schedule between German and Great Lakes ports.

The ship carries a crew of 16. The last German ship to sail the Great Lakes was the S. S. Tractor in 1937. Hitler's wars stopped ocean traffic to the U. S. A.

Previously, he had told the Senators that Russia has made "sizeable increases" since last December in her military forces near the Korean border.

He said he believed that MacArthur's plan for blockading China, bombing Manchurian bases and using Chinese Nationalist troops involves risks of Russian entry into the fighting and the spawning of World War III.

Manistee Woman, 33, Beaten, Left In Ditch; Truck Driver Hunted

LUDINGTON, Mich.—(AP)—A young ex-convict who posed as a truck driver was sought today for questioning about the severe beating of Mrs. Lester Glen, 33, of Manistee.

Mrs. Glen is in critical condition at Paulina Sterns hospital from injuries suffered early Sunday when a man she had given a ride beat her on a lonely country road four miles northeast of here.

She told sheriff Edward Anderson of Mason county her assailant took $60 in cash and her car, leaving her in a ditch where she lay for three hours before being found.

The sheriff said patrons at a restaurant where Mrs. Glen had dined told him a young man asked her for a ride, saying he was a truck driver and wanted to get to his truck stalled some distance from the city. The two left together, Anderson said.

He added that the description of the truck driver tallied with that of an ex-convict in the area. He did not give the former prisoner's name.

Rev. Ward Tells Of Mediterranean Trip

Ruins of ancient civilizations piled one upon the other around the shores of the Mediterranean combined to form a vivid impression of war's ravage, the Rev. James G. Ward Monday told the Escanaba Rotary club at its noon luncheon meeting at the Delta hotel.

Rev. Ward, retired pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, recently returned from a Mediterranean cruise including 20 trips ashore. Mrs. Ward accompanied her husband on the cruise that ended March 31.

Vivid word pictures of cities and countries bordering the Mediterranean, from the fortress of Gibraltar to Cairo and the Holy Land, were presented by the speaker.

In many places there is nothing but ruins and memories of the past, as at Carthage, a city destroyed by the Romans.

Elsewhere there is the stirring of new life, particularly in Israel—formerly Palestine.

At Haifa modern housing projects contrast to the centuries-old history.

"I was told that 20,000 Jews are coming into Israel each month," Rev. Ward said. "There they have formed a well-organized army and I was also told that they had driven one million Arabs from the Holy Land."

Jews from all over the world are pouring millions of dollars into the reconstruction of Israel, and the cities are modern and clean in appearance, he said.

Irate Patron Roughs Up Pink Elephant In Kalamazoo Suburbs

KALAMAZOO—(AP)—The Pink Elephant took a whale of a beating from a thirsty customer in the wee hours today.

The Pink Elephant is a tavern on the outskirts of suburban Augusta. Its proprietor, Robert Manders, decided a customer was too wobbly already to have "one for the road" at 2 a. m.

Incensed and loudly proclaiming society the would-be customer, he turned the car outside—then turned the car into a battering ram. When he'd finished, the Pink Elephant was minus its porch, its door and a few planks of siding.

Undersheriff Bertram MacGregor said Mrs. Betty Manders, the proprietor's wife, put a knot on the man's head with a pistol butt before he arrived.

MacGregor estimated damages at $300 and said Franz J. Jartman, 22, of Battle Creek, will be charged with malicious destruction of property among other things.

Youthful President Of Rollins College Fired By Trustees

WINTER PARK, Fla.—(AP)—Dr. Paul A. Wagner, 33, youngest college president in the nation when he was picked to head Rollins college in 1949, has been fired. But the ousting trustees still may face a fight to make it stick.

The action was taken by 11 trustees—a majority of the 21-member board—in New York City April 27 and announced late last night. Rollins' lawyer Raymond McGuire advised local trustees any action taken outside Florida would be illegal and they did not attend.

Hugh F. McKean, 42-year-old professor of art, was named acting president. The first Rollins alumnus to become its president, McKean is the husband of one of the trustees, Mrs. Jeannette Guinness McKean.

Scientists At U-M Stop Polio Virus Growth In Tests

ANN ARBOR—Two University of Michigan scientists have discovered that a certain chemical compound will stop the growth and multiplication of polio virus in a laboratory culture of human tissue.

This is the first time that a chemical has been found which will stop the growth of polio virus in human tissue without damaging that tissue, the U-M researchers indicated.

Use of "ethionine" (a compound known for over five years) to check virus growth was reported this week by Drs. Gordon C. Brown and W. W. Ackerman of the Department of Epidemiology and Virus Laboratory in the University's School of Public Health.

Ethionine stops the growth of polio virus by interfering with the complex chain of chemical reactions that take place within tissue cells and not by acting directly upon the virus, the two doctors explained. The interference prevents the virus from getting substances necessary for its growth and multiplication.

In an interview, Dr. Brown emphasized that the research results will have no immediate application in the treatment of polio infection in human beings until further extensive tests with ethionine and similar compounds have been made in animals.

Chief Of Police Who Killed Two Soldiers Jailed For Murder

PERRY, Ga.—(AP)—A police chief who claims he killed two AWOL paratroopers in self-defense has been jailed on a murder charge.

Thomas Bragg, 46, police chief at nearby Hawkinsville, was arrested and jailed without bond Saturday night. Houston county Sheriff C. C. Chapman said he expected the case to go before a grand jury soon.

Bragg was accused of murder in a warrant sworn to by the mother and widow of one of the soldiers, Pvt. Louis L. Passmore, 27, formerly of Hawkinsville. The other victim was Pvt. Lon G. Asman, 21, of Woodlake, Calif. Both were stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

The officer said he shot the paratroopers to protect his own life when they attacked him and threatened to kill him. Bragg reported he arrested the men Friday night for being absent without leave and was driving them from Hawkinsville to Warner Robins air force base when the shooting occurred.

He said the paratroopers, unarmed and handcuffed together, jumped him as he drove across a narrow bridge.

Ex-Bootlegger And Son-In-Law Deny They Beat Union Leader

DETROIT—(AP)—Carl Renda and Santo (Sam) Perrone, his ex-bootlegger father-in-law, denied today any connection with the beating of a union official five years ago.

The denial was contained in an answer filed by them to a $100,000 damage suit brought by Kenneth Morris, president of Briggs local 212 of the CIO United Auto Workers.

Morris charged that he and other union leaders at the Briggs Manufacturing Co., were beaten with lead pipe in return for lucrative scrap metal contracts given to Renda. The Briggs firm, an auto body manufacturer, and W. Dean Robinson, its president, also were named as defendants.

Renda admitted before the Kefauver Senate crime committee here that he has earned as much as $100,000 a year from the contract although he had no equipment or experience to begin with and his company actually did not have to handle the scrap. Perrone, another committee witness, previously had been given a scrap contract by the Detroit Michigan Stove Co.

Two Vessels Burn After Collision East Of Cape Henry

NORFOLK, Va.—(AP)—The Collier Thomas Tracy and the Navy Seaplane Tender Valcour collided five miles east of Cape Henry today. Atlantic fleet headquarters said, "both ships are burning and their crews are abandoning ship."

Minutes later, however, fleet headquarters reported it has received reports that the crews of both vessels still were aboard and were "getting the fires under control on both ships."

Naval and Coast Guard ships and planes were dispatched to the area.

The Valcour sailed from Norfolk today for training operations in the Atlantic. The seaplane tender displaces 2400 tons. She is 310 feet long.

Fleet headquarters spokesmen said they did not know how many men are aboard the Valcour.

Race With Freight To Crossing Kills Six At Chatham, Ont.

CHATHAM, Ont.—(AP)—Six Ontario youths, who apparently tried to beat a freight train to a crossing, were killed and one was critically injured in a train-car collision here Saturday.

The victims were Kenneth C. Crawford, 18, Chatham; William Merritt, 20, Northwood; Mary D. Como, 19, Turnerville; William G. Hughes, 19, Kent Bridge; Rosemarie Therrien, 17, and Margorie Graham, 14, of Merlin.

Neil Merritt, 21, of Northwood, was in a critical condition in Chatham public general hospital. The group was enroute to a dance.

Witnesses told police that the car containing the group suddenly swerved out from behind a car stopped for the train and rammed into the front of the Chesapeake and Ohio diesel locomotive.

Israeli Flag Placed In Independence Hall By Prime Minister

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Israel's Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion, placed his country's flag beside those of other United Nations members at Independence Hall yesterday. He visited Philadelphia on a tour in behalf of Israel's $500,000,000 bond issue, marking that country's third anniversary.

Some 10,000 attended the ceremony. Previously Ben-Gurion spent an hour with scientist Albert Einstein in Princeton, N. J. It was their first meeting since 1930 in Berlin.

A friend said they talked of "relativity, freedom, Greek philosophy, Spinoza and no politics."

Beef Ceilings Bring Few Price Slashes

(By The Associated Press) Retail price ceilings go into effect on beef today—but don't count on general price-slashing at your butcher shop.

Some of the new beef prices will be higher, some lower, some unchanged.

Many stores have found the new government ceilings permit advances on several items from prices they were charging last week. Where competitive conditions permit, most of these retailers are expected to take advantage of this. They say they're entitled to a little relief after being squeezed in recent weeks as costs went up while their own selling prices were frozen.

A spokesman for a leading supermarket chain in the east said the ceiling prices in general allowed boosts for the more expensive cuts, like porterhouse and sirloin steaks. But the ceilings either held the prevailing price line or required reductions on "the poor man's meat" like hamburger and steaming beef.

Imposition of the retail ceilings today is the third major step in a series of actions ordered by government price stabilizers and designed to reduce beef prices about 10 cents a pound by October.

Earlier, packers and slaughterers were ordered to start grading their beef according to federal standards, if they weren't already, and to set up a sales records system for use in the event meat must be allocated later. And last week, dollars and cents ceilings on beef at the wholesale level went into effect. Coming later: Rollbacks in packers and slaughterers' buying prices for livestock, and in the wholesale and retail ceiling schedules.

Convicted Atomic Spy, Dr. Fuchs, May Be Freed In London

LONDON—(AP)—Reports that Dr. Klaus Fuchs, convicted atom spy, may be released to continue atomic research work under guard were published by two local newspapers yesterday.

The Reynolds News and the Sunday Chronicle both carried such speculative stories on Fuchs, and the Chronicle added that Dr. Alan Nunn may also might be released under a similar arrangement.

Because of the Whitsun holiday weekend, government officials were not immediately available for comment.

Both men are serving prison terms for disclosing atomic secrets to Russia.

The two newspapers said that if Fuchs is released, he will be guarded to make certain no secret information gets out this time.

A third paper, the Sunday Dispatch, quoted the warden of Stafford prison as denying reports that home office officials have interviewed Fuchs with a view to obtaining his release.

U. S. Carrying Brunt Of Conflict In Korea

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—Senate hearings into the Truman-MacArthur controversy are touching on the issue that carries perhaps the greatest emotional charge both in Congress and the country. That is the high percentage of the burden of the Korean war carried by the United States.

This gets down to the roll of American casualties, to the cost of war in materials and money, which in turn means higher taxes, to the independence of American action in a command that includes the troops of 14 nations. Thus it is highly exploitable and the Republicans show every sign of exploiting it with help from General MacArthur.

Senator Wiley of Wisconsin picked up the figure of 350,000 Americans involved in the Korean war and suggested that they were subject to a foreign command. General Marshall replied that the situation in Korea was no different from that in Europe when General Eisenhower was supreme commander of the Allied forces. The military censor deleted Marshall's testimony about the number of Americans and the number of other fighting men involved in the Korean conflict.

Information I have obtained indicates the 350,000 figure is much too large. The correct figure is nearer 250,000 and that includes not only American ground forces but sea and air as well. The 350,000 figure was apparently an estimate of U. S. ground forces combined with South Korean ground forces.

An estimate of the number of fighting men from the other 13 nations supplying troops is 50,000, and this would also include sea and air as well as ground. The ratio is therefore approximately five to one—five American fighting men for every one contributed by Britain, France, Turkey, Canada and so on. And, as before, this is exclusive of South Koreans.

Within a day or two 6,000 Canadian soldiers will arrive in Korea after a period of intensive training at Fort Lewis, Washington. This infantry brigade group will join other Canadians, British and Australian forces to form a commonwealth division. With all the special services attached to it, it will be an outfit unit fully as large as the U. S. Marine divisions that have been in Korea.

Canada's total on the ground will be about 7,500. Britain has about 12,000 ground troops and 8,000 in the naval force. Canada has three destroyers and an air force transport squadron involved.

Apart from the Canadians soon to go into the line, no other addition from the 13 U. N. powers supporting the United States is in sight. That is the hard fact that is going to have an important bearing on public opinion in this country if the war goes on into the early fall with another winter campaign in prospect.

May Demand Action
Observers who can see public opinion boiling up on this issue believe one of two things is likely to happen. Pressure for the MacArthur policy, which seems to many to offer a quick and simple end of the war, will become much greater. If this pressure is resisted by the administration, then in both congress and the country support for the U. N. war in Korea will fall away to such a point that it might be necessary to withdraw American forces from the Korean peninsula. The growing American resentment ignores one important consideration. That is the contribution made by other U. N. nations toward holding the line against Communism elsewhere in Asia.

The French have about 150,000 of their best troops in Indo-China where the struggle against Communist-led guerrillas brought a high rate of casualties. The United States is furnishing military aid, including guns, tanks and so far about 100 planes. An American military mission of 73 men is in Indo-China.

12,000 In Hong Kong
The British have about 17,000 British soldiers in Malaya, plus 12,000 Gurkhas from India and four Malayan battalions equipped and trained by the British. They have been engaged in a fierce struggle to save the rubber plantations from guerrilla action. Since a part of Malaya's rubber has gone to Russia and Red China, some Americans would not count this last much of a contribution. About 12,000 British troops are stationed in Hong Kong.

It may be that against the emotional tide facts count for little. But they are facts, and in the balance sheet drawn by our U. N. allies they weigh heavily.

More roses are grown than any other kind of woody plant for greenhouse production and retail sales. The production for garden use now is estimated at 30 million plants a year.

Draft Checks Up On Seamen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Selective service and the Maritime industry are combining efforts to keep wandering seamen out of trouble with draft boards, especially inland boards without much knowledge of the ways of the sea.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey announced yesterday there will be a combined effort to:

1. Make sure seamen provide draft boards with full information on whereabouts, sea experience and ratings.

2. Try to recruit crews for the growing Merchant Marine from men not subject to the draft, particularly through enticing back to the sea experienced men who have gone ashore.

Hershey said Maritime unions will help. He sent to all draft boards copies of a report by Adm. E. L. Cochrane, Maritime administrator, on Merchant Marine manpower problems.

The report is only for guidance to draft boards, Hershey stressed. Many seamen had been reported draft delinquent, the report said, because draft notices—often from island boards—were sent to them while they were afloat and the ten-day limit expired before they returned. The present plan is to keep draft boards fully informed by postal cards sent by seamen and countersigned by a union, company or government representative.

New AP Chief Takes Over Job In Korea

NEW YORK—(AP)—Robert Eunson, veteran war and foreign correspondent, was named by the Associated Press as the new chief of bureau in Tokyo and Korea.

Eunson replaces Russell Brines, who has served in the Far East almost without interruption for more than 15 years. Brines for the past 11 months has directed AP's war staff in the grueling task of covering the Korean conflict.

AP General Manager Frank J. Starzel announced that Brines is returning to the United States at his own request for rest and reassignment later.

Stories Of Wild Men In Lumbering Days Mostly Fiction, Crowe Declares

(Editor's note: This is the sixth in a series of articles about early logging days in the Manistique area.)

By W. S. CROWE

Nothing delighted an old "cowhand" on the western plains more than to stuff a "tenderfoot" with tall tales about "six gun" men, stage robbers and cattle thieves, and the number of desperados he had helped "string up." I lived for two years on a cattle ranch in eastern Colorado in the early 90's and if I had believed half the stories they told me, I would have seen the ghost of an outlaw hanging from every limb on every cottonwood on the banks of the South Platte, but in all that time I only saw one "cowboy" with a revolver and he was practicing on jack rabbits.

Of course there were "bad men" in the old west, but I doubt if the entire west ever produced as many "gunmen" as the City of Chicago and even Chicago cannot boast that more than one in ten thousand of its citizens is a "killer."

Many Tall Tales

Likewise the old time woodsmen hugely enjoyed filling up a "greenhorn" with fancy stories, especially if he was a writer gathering material for a book, in which case they went "all out" and outdid themselves inventing "Bunyanesque" tales about the "red eyed, bearded, fighting, swearing, savage, high rolling, whoring, whiskey drinking, quarrelsome and tough lumberjacks and 'white water' men of the 'gay nineties'."

Actually, the good people in any community so far off number the bad that the old fellows, for mere lack of material, just have to draw on their imaginations—very good ones by the way—to make up the exciting stories the younger generation seems to require.

The tragedy of all this, however, is that it leaves the present generation with a completely false and distorted picture of real life in pioneer days.

Quotes Book

I now quote, and will try and refute, some passages from a book, "Call it North Country" written by a gifted young author who wasn't born until three years after the C. L. Co. had ceased operating, but whose sponsors assure us, "has fished, hunted and travelled all over the land he writes about, has studied its history and talked to its people."

I QUOTE: "The jacks starved for liquor and women, overran the saw mill towns like pillaging conquerors. Manistique, Escanaba, Menominee — the cities were abandoned to them. The 'good' people stayed indoors for days, from the first onslaught until the last drunk was plucked from the gutter. They jammed the broad straight streets from sidewalk to sidewalk, a surging flood of bearded men, fighting, drinking, whoring. Up and down Ludington Street in Escanaba they swarmed. Manistique became the seat of Schoolcraft county and nerve-center of the lustiest, bawdiest logging operations in Upper Michigan." And speaking of Seney, "Hell Town in the Pines", he says: — "this God-forsaken hamlet in the pines housed the offices of a half dozen of the largest lumbering companies then operating in Michigan, including the famed 'C. L. Company' (Chicago Lumber Company), and Alger, Smith."

Refutes Stories

The book goes into sordid details about conditions in Seney which I would not care to repeat in print. The truth is that since the time of Adam and Eve and David and Bathsheba, until the present day, wherever there have been men there have been women (and some sin). It has always been so, it is so now, and it will probably be so until the sound of the last trumpet. That is life as it is. Everybody knows it, and there is no necessity for writing a book, or going into detail about it.

I REFUTE: — The statement that the cities were abandoned to them and that the "good people" stayed indoors, and that women kept off the streets when the camps broke up in the spring is pure "baloney." Anyone who doubts this can easily confirm my statement by simply asking any woman who lived in Manistique

Plan Extensive Sport Program

Summer Recreation Activity Outlined

The city recreation commission plans a broad program of activities for the summer, including swimming, baseball and softball, it is announced by T. H. Reque, director.

The swimming program for children through 16 years of age is expected to start about mid-June, with buses making morning and afternoon trips to the Indian Lake State park beach.

The morning run will leave Manistique at 10 o'clock and will take swimming groups through 12 years of age. The afternoon trip will start at 1 p. m. and will be for youngsters from 12 through 16 years.

Three Baseball Groups

Three classes of baseball also are slated to start after school closes, Reque said. The mite class, for boys through 11 years, and the midget group, for boys 12 through 14, will be composed of several teams. The juniors, which will take in boys from 14 up, will probably be made into one team to be known as the junior Cardinals.

Seven diamonds will be available for the baseball program, but only five are normally used. Three diamonds at the fairgrounds, one on South Fifth street and another at the old Hiawatha hotel site, North Mackinac avenue, will be used for the recreation baseball program, but the court house field and a new Riverside diamond will be available for general practice and playground sports.

The Riverside field was partially developed last season on ground provided by Chief of Police Roy Anderson. A portable backstop is to be installed this year.

Inter-City Games

A schedule of games with out-of-town teams will be arranged later, with mites and midget teams playing in the afternoons and the juniors in the evenings.

A total of 217 boys were registered for the recreation commission's baseball program last season, Reque reported.

Plans are being made for girls' softball and a series of outdoor classes in arts and crafts. The figurines will be painted by the girls. A brief schedule of supervised games also will be provided during the class periods.

James Macki Is Hit By Bullet

Gladstone Youth Hurt In Rifle Accident

James "Jimmy" Macki, 16, of Gladstone, sustained a hip wound last evening in an accidental shooting at the Gladstone city dump on the bluff while he and a companion, Ronald Timler, 17, were hunting rats.

The wound is not serious and Macki was not hospitalized.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p. m. yesterday and the bullet was fired from a .22 rifle in the hands of Timler, Gladstone city police reported.

Police said Timler told them he thought he saw a rat and raised the small caliber rifle and fired. The bullet entered Macki's left hip and ranged downward about six inches and lodged under the skin.

Timler ran to the highway and hailed a passing motorist, George Gill of 1401 North 16th street, Escanaba, who took Macki to a Gladstone physician. There x-ray examination revealed the location of the bullet, which was removed. No bones were broken and no veins were severed.

Timler returned to his home. The wound is painful but not serious.

Boat Capsizes, Three Rescued

Phillip Deneau, 10, Still In Hospital

A father and his son and daughter narrowly escaped drowning late yesterday afternoon when their rowboat capsized on Little Bay de Noc between Masonville and Kipling.

Walter Deneau, 44, of Masonville, and his daughter, Mary, 15, today had recovered from the effects of exposure to the cold water, but a son, Phillip, 10, is still in St. Francis hospital receiving treatment for shock. His condition today was reported as "fair."

The boy was unconscious and was being held by the father on the overturned boat when rescuers arrived. The girl was in the water clinging to the boat.

Hear Cries For Help

They were rescued by John Coan of Escanaba and William Klein of Gladstone.

Deneau's cries for help were heard by Mr. and Mrs. Klein and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schram from where they were spending the day at the Schram cottage on the shore.

Because they had no boat at the cottage, Klein and Schram went to the nearest telephone and called city and state police at Gladstone. From there they went to the Beecher boat rental and Klein and Coan set out in a boat powered with an outboard motor.

Half-hour in Water

The boat was in the water for the first time and leaked at the seams, requiring constant bailing. They came up to the Deneau's and their overturned boat in a few minutes.

Deneau was sitting on the overturned boat, holding his son, who was unconscious. Taken ashore the boy was revived by a physician and then taken to the Escanaba hospital by ambulance.

Mary Deneau told rescuers she had been in the water for about a half hour.

Kipling PTA Will Plan For Picnic Activities At Girl

Holme starred for three years at Stambaugh high school under the expert eye of Coach Willard Anderson... In his senior year he led the Hilltoppers to an undefeated season and the championship of the Upper Peninsula... Stepping into the fullback slot at Minnesota, Holme appears headed for great things... In the spring scrimmage he scored four touchdowns and laterated to Halfback Paul Giel for a fifth... Holme is a big, strong youngster whose play in high school was nothing but spectacular... He handled most of the running, passing and punting assignments and did all of them well... But his breath-taking line blasts were the most sensational feature of his play... He is also a No. 1 student in classes.

Redman is a senior at Graveret high school in Marquette... Normally a shortstop, he took over the pitching chore for Marquette against Escanaba last week and turned in a creditable job... Outstanding on the gridiron, he was an all-conference back in the Marquette area for two years and was named to the All-Upper Peninsula team last fall... He set an All-U. P. scoring record last season with 138 points on 21 TDs and 12 conversions... Redman has been a member of the varsity basketball team and will have earned 12 varsity letters when he graduates this spring.

Robichaud is an 18-year-old senior at Florence high school... Baseball is his strong sport but he also excels in football and basketball... We've seen him work in the Twin State league around Iron River and he looked very good... He paced the Florence Northlanders to the league crown last season... The six-one, 175-pound right-hander has been eyed by a number of major league scouts... He plans to enroll at the University of Wisconsin next fall.

Other pitchers who saw action were starter Saul Rogovin, Gene Bearden, Virgil Trucks and Wayne McLeod. Bearden was charged with the loss.

The second game saw St. Louis take an early 1-0 lead, with Al Widmar pitching two-hit ball through the fifth. But in the sixth, he gave up five hits—including Wertz's fifth homer of the year—and all five Detroit runs.
